MEMORANDUM FOR: Director, FBIS

FROM: Chief, London Bureau

THROUGH: Chief, Operations Group

SUBJECT: Monthly Report -- London Bureau -- March 1982

I. GENERAL

Lord Trefgarne, Parliamentary Under Secretary of State in the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, visited the Monitoring Service on 12 March; a briefing on satellite monitoring at the dish site was included in the program for his visit.

II. OPERATIONS

A. Editorial/Monitorial

1. Brezhnev appearances and speeches and coverage of them were the most significant events in March. The bureau fully exploited television and other Soviet sources on each occasion to supply visual descriptions, videotapes and substantive remarks. The visits to Moscow of the Polish and Finnish delegations and the rally in the Bolshoy Theater celebrating International Women's Day produced nothing unusual substantively or operationally; addresses, communiques, etc., were monitored in typical fashion from TASS and the domestic service, and leadership lineups and other video material were taken from recorded reportage in the 1800 "Vremya" newscast. The opening of the AUCCTU congress on the 16th, however, seemed to mark a change in media policy on handling events involving Brezhnev, when a decision to provide live coverage was reversed several days before the event. It was not until hours later that video and voice recordings of Brezhnev were aired, though TASS promptly reported Brezhnev's important announcement on freezing medium-range nuclear weapons. Similarly, his overture to China at an award ceremony in Uzbekistan on the 24th was not immediately heard nationwide. Tashkent radio did relay the meeting, but a live television feed to Moscow was not simultaneously disseminated over the All Union television network. A bureau and BBC watch on satellite television transmissions and regional and central radio broadcasts yielded "in the flesh" reporting later in the day. The question of how to source television feeds arose in connection with the Tashkent event, a matter that remains under consideration. PMU editor [ ] assisted in identifying Soviet republic leaders in the video tape of the Tashkent meeting.

2. Following AG's assessment of the sampling of Moscow television programs, the bureau added the Saturday afternoon "Observer" talk by a political commentator or correspondent to regular ROSET coverage, which now also includes the Sunday "International Panorama" feature, the monthly "Studio Nine" discussion panel (in coordination with Okinawa) and the daily 1800 "Vremya" newscast. Other casts are monitored on an ad hoc basis as printed schedules, broadcast previews and situations suggest. BBC's "Vremya" survey was completed on the 26th. The basic finding is that there are three new editions of the newscast each day: 1130, 1400 and 1800. The complete results have been forwarded to FCS, AG and Okinawa. ✓
3. Another development in Soviet media coverage was the installation in the BBC Listening Room of a Racal Autostore long-play recorder. It is now being used to record all six domestic radio "programs" continuously. With this new capability, BBC has taken a first step in streamlining coverage by eliminating the individual recording and checking of repeats of certain feature programs. Details have been reported to FCS.
4. Caversham coverage of Kabul Domestic Service resumed on the 20th when one of the Afghan monitors returned to duty earlier than expected. Gulf had assumed full coverage for most of the month while BBC monitors were on sick and annual leave. Gulf has picked up complete coverage of Oman radio because most casts are unmonitorable at EAU. A recent deterioration in Caversham reception of Tunis Domestic Service during most of its broadcast day prompted a request to Nicosia to cruise the transmitter with a view to taking over some coverage.
5. PMU weathered its second month of coping with the continuing strike by Heathrow baggage handlers. Although mail delivery of the Soviet papers resumed on 9 March, receipts have been very erratic. Thus, we are continuing to use the courier service. Russian monitor

B. Communications

A planned downtime took place on 6 March at Croughton Switch. Planned for an hour, it actually lasted only 30 minutes; no altroutes were implemented. The downtime was used to restore normal power supply to Switch which had been removed for repairs.

C. Lateral Services

At the request of LRB, the bureau secured and filed at immediate precedence to the U.S. Embassy in Monrovia a transcript of a report on Libyan-Ethipian plots against Sudan carried by BBC's External Service. For the embassy in Accra, we are now on the lookout for reportage on the visit of a five-man Ghanaian delegation scheduled to visit Bulgaria, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary and the Soviet Union.

D. Technical

A new Prom has been installed in the Inteq of the new Mode I, but the circuit is still not operating properly. Whether this is due to incompatibility with the Switch or incorrect programming of the Inteq has yet to be determined.

F. Islamabad Unit

The unit completed a 1-week survey of Iranian regional radios for the Gulf Bureau at its request.

III. ADMINISTRATION

A. Personnel

1. [ ] has been put in processing to fill the vacancy in the associate editor ranks.
2. [ ] EOD'd 5 April as a teletype operator.
3. [ ] EOD'd 5 April as a fulltime contract cruiser at the ROSET site.
4. Recruiting to fill two upcoming vacancies in PMU continues. Polish/French and Polish/Russian applicants interviewed so far have not measured up to PMU standards.
5. PMU Russian monitor [ ] returned from Vienna TDY on 11 March.
